MADE IN GERMANY

Carpets with Cashmere goat hair

Cashmere goat hair, a highgrade natural raw material, keeps goats warm in cold weather. It is the essential, distinctive feature that sets tretford carpets apart from conventional textile floor coverings.

The Cashmere goat's long, very robust top hair is used in tretford carpets. It is carefully cut by hand and gently washed in Mongolia, the country of origin. Subsequently, it is dyed in Europe using eco-friendly colors.

In the end, the interplay of premium materials and decades of experience is what engenders a tretford carpet – easy-care, very hardwearing and boasting radiant colors and extraordinary longevity.

For almost 60 years now tretford has been producing carpets in Germany. The family enterprise ‚Weseler Teppich GmbH & Co. KG‘, whose company seat and production facilities are located in Wesel on the Lower Rhine, is behind the brand name ‚tretford‘.

The gentle use of natural resources and a responsible attitude towards the environment is what informs tretford's entrepreneurial spirit. Now and in the future.

A perfect backdrop for little princesses and adventurers

Kids' bedrooms are where our precious little ones play out their fantasy. They can immerse themselves in whole new worlds – a knight's castle or a fairytale land, for example – here. Or they can be a fireman who has been called out to an emergency. The natural materials that are processed into tretford carpets help create a healthy living environment that will boost a child's joy of playing.

Carpet tiles are particularly flexible. They are installed via the loose lay method (from wall to wall), which makes it easy to transform rooms just by replacing individual tiles. For rooms that can grow in step with your child.

Game pieces and building blocks won't tip over.

By replacing or moving individual tiles, rooms can be quickly transformed. In fact, the room can 'grow' along with your child.

Since tretford carpeting won't fray, it offers endless design possibilities for children's rooms.

Colorful and cozy – round area carpets are the perfect play island.
